

CLUB ACTIVITIES FOR NEAR FUTURE

Coming Events in Club World Include a Varied List of Plans.

MEETINGS OF PAST WEEK

Hostesses of Past and Future Meetings in Club Circles.

The Suffrage Federation of the District began its new year with a large attendance at the new national headquarters, 1628 Rhode Island avenue northwest, from 2 to 11 o'clock. In the receiving line were Mrs. Helen R. Tindall, chairman of the new federation; Mrs. Frank Hiram Smith, Mrs. R. O. Jones, Mrs. J. D. Abrahams, Mrs. Anna E. Henry and Mrs. Alice Lee Moque. Miss Florence Fraser Stiles presided at the tea table, assisted by Mrs. James Hurley and Mrs. Henry Churchill Cook.

A musical and literary program was rendered during the evening, which included piano solos by Fraulien Fromme, the Polish pianist; Mrs. Irene M. Chalmers, of West Virginia, and Madam Oberlin; vocal solos by Mrs. Charles Brown and Miss Spaulding, accompanied by Mrs. Chalmers and by Mrs. Samuel Burleigh Milton to her own guitar accompaniment; reading by Mrs. Alice Lee Moque from her book of travel, "Delightful Dalmatia," and readings by Mrs. Chalmers from "Cuthbert Harrison," book of poems.

A large number of visitors from out of town, especially from Massachusetts and Illinois, were present, besides many local guests prominent in social and official circles.

The Suffrage Federation reception was preceded by a business meeting of the Suffrage Federation, during which Mrs. George A. Ames, Mrs. Henry Churchill Cook, and Mrs. Anna E. Hendley were elected to membership on the board of directors, in accordance with the vote taken at the preceding meeting, to allow the president of any suffrage club in the city that declares itself in favor of the policies of the National Association to be eligible for election to membership on the board.

A business meeting of the Suffrage Federation of the District will be held at the headquarters on Saturday evening for the purpose of discussing plans of work for this year. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, who has just returned to the city, will give a talk on the work to be done in this city.

The meeting of the Kate Gordon Chapter of the Southern Conference, of the National Woman Suffrage Association, which was announced to take place Saturday night at the headquarters, has been changed to be held Friday night, January 12, at the residence of Mrs. Weyna Martin Stoner, 1527 Rhode Island avenue.

Petworth Woman's Club.

The Petworth Woman's Club held a reception Monday evening at the Wallace Memorial Presbyterian Church. In the receiving line were Mrs. S. W. Norton, Mrs. Sidney C. Thompson, Mrs. M. W. Knowlton, Mrs. W. H. Criswell, Mrs. Emma G. Hanks, Mrs. Lytner H. Dewey, Mrs. John McMechan, Mrs. Wirt Taylor, Mrs. Hubert Overstreet, and Mrs. Clara Sullivan. The hall was decorated with evergreens, yellow chrysanthemums, and roses. The Flinck orchestra played during the evening.

The program included piano solos by Miss Anderson and Mrs. Preston; a reading by Miss Brimley; vocal solos by Miss Ida O'Neal, Mrs. John McMechan, and Mr. Hardebeck, and several numbers by the club chorus. Later refreshments were served.

D. A. R.

Constitution Chapter, D. A. R., will hold an at home on "Disfist Day," January 8, at the Porter, Sixteenth and U streets northwest, from 2 to 6 p. m. Mrs. James L. Parker, regent, will act as hostess; assisted by the officers of the chapter.

Woman's Benefit Association of Macabees.

National Association, No. 1, of the Woman's Benefit Association of the Macabees, inducted much of the real Christmas spirit into their entertainment of the officers' club this month—with a Christmas tree, a banquet table decorated in the red and green of the season, and with a seasonable repast—with Christmas thoughts for roll call responses.

Mrs. Estelle V. Huntington, vice president, presided over the business session, and Mrs. Fannie E. Walters graced the head of the banquet table as hostess. The drilling and uniform of the guard regiment and the ball to be given February 14 in the Raleigh Hotel were the principle themes for discussion. "Privileged Questions" was the subject for parliamentary law study, led by Mrs. Mabel T. Lafitte.

Mrs. H. W. Phillips, of Pennsylvania; Mrs. Elizabeth A. Merle, of Ohio, and Mrs. E. K. Brown, of Ohio, were guests. Eight new members were reported into the club, five from Victory Review, two from Brightwood, and Mrs. H. W. Phillips.

Personals.

Mrs. Stella M. Towner, record keeper of Columbia Review, No. 3, will be home in a few days after her weeks of illness in Emergency Hospital. Miss Edna McIntosh, commander of Independence Review, No. 4, and Mrs. Estelle V. Huntington, commander of Victory, No. 12, have been suffering from sprained ankles as results of bad falls just before Christmas.

Association of Collegiate Alumnae.

The Association of Collegiate Alumnae will hold an important business meeting on January 10 to discuss the revision of the by-laws relating to association membership. Further consideration will also be given to the program for the biennial of the general association to be held Easter week. Miss Mabel Colcord will be the chairman for the business meeting.

C. A. R.

The Children of the American Revolution will hold a dance at the Cairo hall, Q street near Sixteenth, next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Tickets, including refreshments, will be 50 cents.

Woman's Club, Bethesda.

The Woman's Club of Bethesda will meet on Tuesday, January 9, at 2 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Anderson, Elm street, Chevy Chase, Md. The committee on education will read a report.

Suffrage.

The National American Woman Suffrage Association will have a work conference on Saturday, January 6, at 8 p. m., at 1628 Rhode Island avenue. The speakers will be Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president, and Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, first vice president.

LUCKY IS OWNER OF PAISLEY SHAWL

Genuine Article Exquisitely Delicate, Yet Daring in Coloring.

Fortunate is the proud possessor of a real Paisley shawl, for these rare old heirlooms, with their exquisitely delicate yet daring coloring, are not all genuine. One must remember that there are three distinct kinds of cashmere shawls—the Indian shawl, the French imitation, and the Paisley copy. Still another kind of Indian shawl is the patchwork shawl, composed of little pieces of marvelous needlework, sewn together. If by chance one should own that pretty rarity, an Indian cashmere, then, indeed, one should be happy, for it is worth its weight in gold.

How To Wear It.

Since Dame Fashion has decided to smile upon everything suggestive of the Empire period, our beloved relics have not escaped. No matter how insiduously she may look upon our shawl, we could not commit the atrocity of slashing our Indian cashmere. Its French imitation, or the still more beautiful Paisley, may be cut up, with some hesitation, to be made into charming combinations, so appealing to lovers of artistically daring accessories. But the Indian shawl should be worn only as a scarf, as were those belonging to the ladies of Josephine's court. That fascinating Empress it was who caused the world-wide passion for these shawls. When her distinguished consort came home from the French expedition into Egypt, bringing with him some exquisite Indian shawls, she took an instant fancy to the beautiful things. When Napoleon told her that it took two Hindus two years to make one of them, she uttered a surprised little "Mon Dieu" and ordered one to match each of her gowns.

Designed for Eternity.

If there is any immutable article of dress designed for eternity, it is this ancient garment. They have been worn for thousands of years in the East by a people who resent the idea of change and to whom every custom is a form of religion. They have woven into the delicate web of the fabric some of the symbolism that they love in the form of the pine cone. In all of the Paisley and Indian shawls there is a suggestion of this pattern. Sometimes it appears in whimsical guise, but there it is, the pine cone. The mystic Hindu had not spent years weaving a single shawl for nothing. When once fashion accepted them, he could not supply the demand. Napoleon looked with disfavor upon so much money being paid outside of France. So a French factory was established and the Indian shawls were carefully and successfully copied.

In Paisley, Scotland.

England was slower than France to adopt the fashion. It is not always so. But when they did accept the shawls, the manufacture was nearer perfection than the French shawls. In 1820 the little town of Paisley, Scotland, had become perhaps the most famous manufacturing center in the world. Queen Victoria encouraged the trade by buying seventeen in one year. A bride felt that her trousseau was incomplete without a real Paisley. But, alas, as always happens, when the abundance of home manufacture overtook the demand, the quality suffered. The beautiful glowing stuff was folded carefully in the cedar chest to be brought forth for this generation's pride and glory.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

Has an Adventure in a Drugstore With a Little Boy and Ten Ants.

There was the usual crowd in the big drug store where they sold everything from the finest pill to an emergency umbrella, and most of the customers seemed to be of the soda fountain, where the Woman Who Saw made one of the waiting line. At her side stood an eager faced little boy of possibly eight years intently watching the drift motions of the young man in the white jacket who stood behind the counter skillfully mixing simple or complex concoctions to suit the fancy of his customers. The little had held a shining new dime in his hand and appeared to be trying to solve the problem of the best investment for his precious 10 cents. The tall glasses of ice cream soda were tempting, but equally so were the small "squatty" ones containing the mysterious sundae.

At last the smiling clerk approached him and said in a friendly tone, "Well, sonny, what do you want, a chocolate sundae?" With a stern regard for the truth he had replied, "Sure I want one, but I got to buy a pacifier for the baby."

Hair On Face DeMiracle

Removes it. Works equally well for removing hair from neck, arms, under arms or limbs.

POPULAR MEDICINE BY DR. HIRSHBERG

Intelligent Observation of Rules of Hygiene Will Decrease Illness.

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG.

During the days of King Henry VII of England soldiers from central Europe brought a strange malady into London. Within five weeks "a wonderful number" of persons succumbed to a strange "sweating sickness." Like poliomylitis last summer, it spared neither poor nor rich. "The medical profession was overwhelmed by the new disease," according to Dr. Arpad G. Gerster, of New York, in the Johns Hopkins Hospital Bulletin, "and stood helpless in the face of the calamity."

In those days the flooring of the houses was usually of beaten clay, spread with rushes. When fouled, these were not removed sometimes for twenty years, but were covered with additional layers of earth and musty rushes. Was it any wonder that an epidemic spread?

The "Schwittende Seuche," "Febris sudatoria," or "sweat disease" begins suddenly, sometimes with a chill, followed by excessive fever, headache, and pains in the muscles and long bones.

The Ancient "Cure."

All those at present in the trenches of the old world who have had experience with this ailment agree that after the lapse of twenty-four hours an excessively profuse and nauseating sweat breaks out all over the sufferer.

The three great epidemics of "sweating sickness" before the present one occurred in 1485, in 1528, and in 1517. In London alone 30,000 persons were said to have perished.

In 1528 the disease appeared a fourth time in northern Germany, Scandinavia, and Holland, whence it again spread across the English Channel.

It was advised at that time that "since the attack usually terminated by a cutaneous sweat, the patient should be induced by smothering the patient in heavy feather beds, stopping up all chinks and apertures of the bedroom, and a huge fire should be started in the chimney." The patient was also to be cut up, with some hesitation, to be made into charming combinations, so appealing to lovers of artistically daring accessories. But the Indian shawl should be worn only as a scarf, as were those belonging to the ladies of Josephine's court. That fascinating Empress it was who caused the world-wide passion for these shawls. When her distinguished consort came home from the French expedition into Egypt, bringing with him some exquisite Indian shawls, she took an instant fancy to the beautiful things. When Napoleon told her that it took two Hindus two years to make one of them, she uttered a surprised little "Mon Dieu" and ordered one to match each of her gowns.

Designed for Eternity.

If there is any immutable article of dress designed for eternity, it is this ancient garment. They have been worn for thousands of years in the East by a people who resent the idea of change and to whom every custom is a form of religion. They have woven into the delicate web of the fabric some of the symbolism that they love in the form of the pine cone. In all of the Paisley and Indian shawls there is a suggestion of this pattern. Sometimes it appears in whimsical guise, but there it is, the pine cone. The mystic Hindu had not spent years weaving a single shawl for nothing. When once fashion accepted them, he could not supply the demand. Napoleon looked with disfavor upon so much money being paid outside of France. So a French factory was established and the Indian shawls were carefully and successfully copied.

In Paisley, Scotland.

England was slower than France to adopt the fashion. It is not always so. But when they did accept the shawls, the manufacture was nearer perfection than the French shawls. In 1820 the little town of Paisley, Scotland, had become perhaps the most famous manufacturing center in the world. Queen Victoria encouraged the trade by buying seventeen in one year. A bride felt that her trousseau was incomplete without a real Paisley. But, alas, as always happens, when the abundance of home manufacture overtook the demand, the quality suffered. The beautiful glowing stuff was folded carefully in the cedar chest to be brought forth for this generation's pride and glory.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

Has an Adventure in a Drugstore With a Little Boy and Ten Ants.

There was the usual crowd in the big drug store where they sold everything from the finest pill to an emergency umbrella, and most of the customers seemed to be of the soda fountain, where the Woman Who Saw made one of the waiting line. At her side stood an eager faced little boy of possibly eight years intently watching the drift motions of the young man in the white jacket who stood behind the counter skillfully mixing simple or complex concoctions to suit the fancy of his customers. The little had held a shining new dime in his hand and appeared to be trying to solve the problem of the best investment for his precious 10 cents. The tall glasses of ice cream soda were tempting, but equally so were the small "squatty" ones containing the mysterious sundae.

At last the smiling clerk approached him and said in a friendly tone, "Well, sonny, what do you want, a chocolate sundae?" With a stern regard for the truth he had replied, "Sure I want one, but I got to buy a pacifier for the baby."

Ogram's Luncheonette

—where wholesome home-cooked foods are served at popular prices

We specialize in salads, sandwiches, coffee and all kinds of choice pastries—made in our own kitchen, on the premises.

OGRAM'S Corner 13th and Penna. Ave.

BOOKWORMS BUSY ON LIBRARY ROOF?

Something Has Been Burrowing Little Holes and Grooves in the Copper.

Have the book worms grown tired of the rows and rows of volumes up at the Library of Congress and climbed out to burrow little holes and grooves in the roofing?

A scientist, not a layman, suggested that theory, in fact, when he went up to inspect a phenomenon which is the subject of a forthcoming technical paper of the Bureau of Standards.

Around the famous gold-leafed dome of the best known library building in the world, lie long stretches of tinne sheet copper roofing. It was constructed back in 1890 and 1904, when the price of copper was about 12 cents a pound, instead of 30 cents, and before galvanized iron, and tin-iron, and lead roofings were so generally used.

EDITORIAL COMMENT CONCERNING WOMEN

What the Editorial Writers in the Newspapers Have to Say About Women.

The great biologist, Thomas Huxley, once humorously declared that the prestige of the British on land and sea depended on the maiden ladies of England, says the Los Angeles Times. This was his reasoning:

The maiden sisterhood cared for innumerable cats. The cats destroyed the field mice, so the mice could not destroy the bumblebees, and without the bees to carry pollen about, no clover could be grown.

And if there were no clover, then there would be no good English beef, and therefore no English yeoman to man the ships or fight on land and sea for the great nation on whose possessions the sun never sets and whose drumbeat is heard round the world!

Women Poets—Carpenters!

Miss Amy Lowell contributes a poem on "Traders" to the January issue of "Poetry." It is an imaginative poem—the sort of thing Miss Lowell does a little better than most who attempt it. But having read it, we find ourselves reflecting upon the strange ambitions that the imaginative poet is led to indulge in. It is, perhaps, not so strange that Miss Lowell should "want to be a carpenter." Deft use of plane and saw and chisel might well appeal to an artistic temperament; but when she sings "I want to shingle a house, sitting on a ridge pole"—well, have you ever seen Miss Lowell? If you have, you will understand how we feel.—Chicago Post.

VERMONTERS TO MEET

O. M. Barger Will Speak on "Old Bennington."

A meeting of the Vermont State Association of the District of Columbia will be held next Monday evening in the headquarters at 1010 Seventeenth street northwest.

"Old Bennington" will be the subject of the chief address by O. M. Barger. Contralto solos by Miss Marian Larner, with Mrs. Fred Thompson as accompanist, will be given. Richard L. Greene will speak. The association's plan of having only Vermont speakers has had new interest to these social gatherings. Every native of the Green Mountain State has been invited to affiliate with the association.

SUFFS CAN'T SEE WILSON

Congressional Union Unable to Present Boiesevain Memorial.

Efforts of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage to arrange for an interview with President Wilson for the purpose of presenting the Chief Executive with a resolution in commemorative of Mrs. Inez Milholland Boiesevain have so far been unsuccessful.

Miss Mabel Vernon has seen several occasions during the past week, but has been unable to get a definite answer to her request for an appointment with the President.

RULER AIDS STREET WAIFS

Argentine President Objects to Treating Them as Criminals.

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 4.—President Irigoyen is finding fault with the so-called "detention house for street waifs" in Buenos Aires on the ground that children are treated there too much like "incapable criminals."

At his order more than fifty inmates of the establishment have been transferred to the arsenal, where they are lodged at the expense of the government and fed at his own.

He is arranging to have them learn trades.

BOOKWORMS BUSY ON LIBRARY ROOF?

Something Has Been Burrowing Little Holes and Grooves in the Copper.

Have the book worms grown tired of the rows and rows of volumes up at the Library of Congress and climbed out to burrow little holes and grooves in the roofing?

A scientist, not a layman, suggested that theory, in fact, when he went up to inspect a phenomenon which is the subject of a forthcoming technical paper of the Bureau of Standards.

Around the famous gold-leafed dome of the best known library building in the world, lie long stretches of tinne sheet copper roofing. It was constructed back in 1890 and 1904, when the price of copper was about 12 cents a pound, instead of 30 cents, and before galvanized iron, and tin-iron, and lead roofings were so generally used.

EDITORIAL COMMENT CONCERNING WOMEN

What the Editorial Writers in the Newspapers Have to Say About Women.

The great biologist, Thomas Huxley, once humorously declared that the prestige of the British on land and sea depended on the maiden ladies of England, says the Los Angeles Times. This was his reasoning:

The maiden sisterhood cared for innumerable cats. The cats destroyed the field mice, so the mice could not destroy the bumblebees, and without the bees to carry pollen about, no clover could be grown.

And if there were no clover, then there would be no good English beef, and therefore no English yeoman to man the ships or fight on land and sea for the great nation on whose possessions the sun never sets and whose drumbeat is heard round the world!

Women Poets—Carpenters!

Miss Amy Lowell contributes a poem on "Traders" to the January issue of "Poetry." It is an imaginative poem—the sort of thing Miss Lowell does a little better than most who attempt it. But having read it, we find ourselves reflecting upon the strange ambitions that the imaginative poet is led to indulge in. It is, perhaps, not so strange that Miss Lowell should "want to be a carpenter." Deft use of plane and saw and chisel might well appeal to an artistic temperament; but when she sings "I want to shingle a house, sitting on a ridge pole"—well, have you ever seen Miss Lowell? If you have, you will understand how we feel.—Chicago Post.

VERMONTERS TO MEET

O. M. Barger Will Speak on "Old Bennington."

A meeting of the Vermont State Association of the District of Columbia will be held next Monday evening in the headquarters at 1010 Seventeenth street northwest.

"Old Bennington" will be the subject of the chief address by O. M. Barger. Contralto solos by Miss Marian Larner, with Mrs. Fred Thompson as accompanist, will be given. Richard L. Greene will speak. The association's plan of having only Vermont speakers has had new interest to these social gatherings. Every native of the Green Mountain State has been invited to affiliate with the association.

SUFFS CAN'T SEE WILSON

Congressional Union Unable to Present Boiesevain Memorial.

Efforts of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage to arrange for an interview with President Wilson for the purpose of presenting the Chief Executive with a resolution in commemorative of Mrs. Inez Milholland Boiesevain have so far been unsuccessful.

Miss Mabel Vernon has seen several occasions during the past week, but has been unable to get a definite answer to her request for an appointment with the President.

RULER AIDS STREET WAIFS

Argentine President Objects to Treating Them as Criminals.

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 4.—President Irigoyen is finding fault with the so-called "detention house for street waifs" in Buenos Aires on the ground that children are treated there too much like "incapable criminals."

At his order more than fifty inmates of the establishment have been transferred to the arsenal, where they are lodged at the expense of the government and fed at his own.

He is arranging to have them learn trades.

Abide by the Judgment

—of Washington's best housekeepers and make your BAKING MAIN-STAY—

CREAM BLEND FLOUR

Your experience will confirm their wisdom, and CONVINCE YOU that CREAM BLEND FLOUR is the brand for SATISFACTION and ECONOMY.

AT YOUR GROCER'S

B. B. Earnshaw & Bro.

Wholesalers 1103 to 1109 11th st. 1010 & 1012 M st. ne.

HOLD JOINT INSTALLATION

Army and Navy Union Garrison and Auxiliary Have Exercises.

An official visitation by Gen. H. Oden Lake and other officers featured the joint installation of officers last night by Guy V. Henry Garrison, No. 9, Army and Navy Union, and the Ladies' Auxiliary, at Odd Fellows Hall. General Lake was accompanied by Adj. Gen. Wilbur W. Langdell, Col. W. L. Hull, Col. R. C. Galbraith, and Col. John Masters. Among other visitors were Capt. Oliver Allen, Major T. H. Harris, Adj. John J. Strain, and Capt. S. C. Rohm. Comdr. W. T. Conroy presided.

The installation for the Ladies' Auxiliary was conducted by Mary Valentine, national deputy inspector of the Auxiliary Corps. She was aided by Lady Adj. Estelle Wiggins. The officers installed were:

Lady commander, Estelle Jordan; lady vice commander, Alberta Thornton; lady deputy commander, Minnie Williams; lady quartermaster, Henrietta Boone; lady paymaster, Sophia Hewlett; lady chaplain, Alice Bowie; lady officer of the day, Martina Conroy; lady officer of the guard, Lila Robinson; lady color bearer, Dora Harris and L. Taylor; lady sentinel, S. Brown; lady picket, Mary Coates.

These officers for Guy V. Henry Garrison, No. 9, were installed: Commander, W. T. Conroy (third consecutive election); senior vice commander, L. F. Webster; junior vice commander, J. W. Brown; paymaster, Isaac Brown; quartermaster, E. V. Preston; officer of the day, F. J. Ennis; officer of the guard, David Barts; officer of the watch, Andrew Hill; chaplain, James E. Ennis.

It was announced that Maine military services will be in charge of committees composed of J. H. Paynter, F. Coleman, C. D. Tippet, Henry Ridgely, John Boone, George D. Powell, and Thomas Brothel. The similar committee for the auxiliary is composed of Lucy M. Coles, Ella Mills, Minnie Williams, Alberta Thornton, Ethel Wiggins, Martina Conroy, and Sophia K. Taylor.

Ouch! Rub Out Rheumatic Pain

Rub pain, soreness, stiffness, sciatica right out with "St. Jacob's Oil."

Count fifty! Pain gone. Rheumatism is "pain only." Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub the "St. Jacob's Oil" directly upon the "tender spot," and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and can not burn or discolor the skin. Lumber up! Stop complaining! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacob's Oil" at any drug store, and in just a moment you'll be free from pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. "St. Jacob's Oil" has relieved millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains, and swellings.—Advt.

AMUSEMENTS

Belasco Madness Daily, 2:15 Every Night, 8:15 Good-bye Week of the World's Wonder Last Two Times Sunday. WILSON FOX PATHE. "A Daughter of the Gods" "The Picture Beautiful" with Annette KELLERMANN GRAND SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA Next Week—Seats Now.

ROBERT B. MANTELL Repertoire: Mon. Eve. & Wed. Mat. "The Merchant of Venice" Tues. "Hamlet" Wed. Eve. "Rochester" Thurs. "King Lear" Fri. Eve. & Sat. Mat. "Julius Caesar" Sat. Eve. "Macbeth."

N.Y. SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA TUESDAY, JANUARY 9. WALTER DAMBROCH, Conductor. Wagner Program with Julia Clausen Wagner Prima Donna Chicago Opera Co. Tickets: $2.50, $2.00, $1.50, 75c. T. Arthur Smith, 1306 G St.

POLI'S THEATRE TONIGHT 8:15 2:15 5:15 7:15 9:15 The Great & Novel Allegorical Drama "WHICH ONE SHALL I MARRY?" Next Week—Sun. Mon. Tue. & Wed. Matinees Thurs. and Wed. at 2:15. KATE ELINORE In the Motion Picture, With Music, MY AUNT FROM UTAH 3 DAYS, Beginning Thurs. Jan. 11. BOSTON NATIONAL GRAND OPERA CO. Thurs. Night—"AIDA," with Zenaide, Villani, Gay, Baklanoff, Marlonas, Ananias, Morandini. Fri. Night—"BOHEME," with Teyte, Gaudin, Chalmers, Riegleman, Lazari, Gorreri. Sat. Mat.—"TRIE," with Maura, Kitzky, Chalmers. Sat. Night—"FAUST," with Teyte, Martin, Marlonas, Marr, Wiletskaja, Polle, Guerrieri. CHORUS OF 60. ORCHESTRA OF 50. Prices—R. 1.50, R. 1.00, R. 75c. Tickets on sale at BROADWAY, 12th and 13th streets. Local management, Mrs. Wilson Greene.

LOEW'S COLUMBIA Continuous. Mon. Fri. 10:15, 12:30, 2:30, 4:30, 6:30, 8:30, 10:30. NOW PLAYING KATHLYN WILLIAMS In "REDEEMING LOVE" Grand Pipe Organ—Symphony Orchestra.

B. F. KEITH'S TWICE EVERY DAY Mats. 2:30; Evens. 7:30 to 8:15.

"Hits Scored"—Post Olive Wyndham & Co. MILDRED MACAMBER & CO. Dooley & Rugeley, The Pucks, Other Stars. Next—Pay Templeton, Jas. J. Corbett, etc.

SKATING Central Coliseum, Penna. Ave. N.W. 10:30 to 11:30 p. m. N.W. America's Largest and Finest Arena. New Floor—Wonderful Organ—Band. 5 Sessions Daily. Edw. & Whiting, Mgrs.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture. You can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and luster of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and as—ars glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation, or prevention of disease. Advt.

AMUSEMENTS

NATIONAL TONIGHT AT 8:30 Mat. Saturday

Turn to the Right!

By WINCHELL SMITH AND JOHN E. HAZARD.

NEXT WEEK—SEATS SELLING

FAIR and WARMER With Madge Kennedy

TOMORROW RUSSIAN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA MODEST ALTSCHULER, Conductor. Entire Russian Program. EMMA ROBERTS, Soloist Orders Now. Booking Office of T. Arthur Smith, 1306 G St.

ALMA GLUCK Recital Tuesday, Jan. 9th, 4:30. NATIONAL THEATRE Seats on sale at Broadway, 13th & G.

Have You Seen the World's Wonders? The SAMAR TWINS (Siamese) Joined Together For Life!

WONDERLAND

416 9th St. N. W.

The Samar (Siamese) Twins, to be shown in Washington for a short season, are without a doubt one of Nature's biggest Mistakes.

Two Filipino boys joined together for life by a cartilage of flesh. The Doctor gives an interesting lecture every fifteen minutes on the children from 11 a. m. to 11 p. m., 10c

GAYETY

SLIDING BILLY WATSON AND ED LEE WROTTE.

Next Week—"Big Burlesque Review."

DANCING

GET THE BEST! Prof. Wyndham, 519 Duane St. Ph. M. 5273, Lady Assistant.

MISS CHAPPELEAR, Class Tuesday Evenings. HE Q ST. N. W. PHONE NORTH 084. PRIVATE LESSONS BY APPOINTMENT.

MISS CORB AND MR. MACK, 100 Eye St. N. W. Phone Main 512. Lessons in Day or Evening.

Studio De Dance—Modern Moves, The art of the joyous sport. Directors, Mr. and Mrs. Harley, 112 1/2 10th St. W. Ph. M. 2124.

MILLER'S, Release Theatre bldg. Ph. M. 5274. Dance for 1917-18. The Ton-Ton, the Lending TAPA, RITZ Waltz private & class. Instruct. by soci. sat. eve. class starts Dec. 5, 1916 (limited).

MISS FISHER, Modern dancing. Private lessons only. 124 C St. N. W. Phone Line 317-2.

GLOVER'S, 413 22d, Classes Tues. Thurs. Sat. Priv. lessons any day, 5c; latest mod. class. hall room for rent. 15c. Phone W 1123.

Prof. & Mrs. HOUSE OF DANCING, PROFOUND, 112 1/2 10th St. N. W. Ph. M. 2124. Class, Tues. Thurs. 6c, 22 1/2 10th St. M. 5122.